Remains To Be Taken To Colorado Capitol Building

Funeral Services Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon—Burial Will Take Place in Spring When Remains Will Be Interred in Tomb at Top of Lookout Mountain

Denver, Colo., Jan. 10.—The state of Colorado will receive the body of William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) who died here today, into her capitol Sunday, there to lie in state for four hours.

Funeral services for the noted scout are to be held Sunday afternoon when the body will be placed in a receiving vault in a local cemetery, but the burial will not take place until next spring, probably Decoration Day when the remains of one of the nation's most picturesque characters will be interred in a tomb hewn from the rock at the top of Lookout Mountain near this city. Plans already are afoot for the erection of a suitable monument at this final resting place.

The funeral services Sunday are to be held in the Elks' Home here. In accordance with the wish of the dying scout, however, all the societies to which he belonged are to have a part in his funeral, including the Grand Army of the Republic, the Pioneer Society of Colorado, and the Cowboy Rangers of Denver, besides the Elks.

The Masons will have charge of the interment of the body in its mountain tomb.

Troops to Escort Remains
Federal troops will escort the remains from the Elks' Home to the capitol building, according to plans tonight and other federal troops are expected to march in the funeral cortege.

Telegrams of condolence in large numbers have been pouring into the home of the sister where Colonel Cody has been staying for the last few days. One from President Wilson and others from the general staff of the army, including General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, were among the number.

Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," hunter, soldier, scout and showman was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in America thru his wild west show with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a pioneer of the frontier, a hunter, a trapper, a scout, a soldier, a showman and lived to see large cities built where he once hunted the buffalo and fought Indians.

Col. Cody Born in Iowa

Col. William F. Cody was born in Scott County, Iowa, February 26, 1846. His ancestral stock was Spanish, English and Irish. His parents moved west and took up a claim near the Missouri river, then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was five years old. At ten years of age he found himself the head of the family owing to the death of his father who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the negro slave question. Young Cody's first employment was as a courier between the freight wagon train operated between the Missouri river and the Rocky Mountains. In turn he became wagon master, trapper, hunter, pony express rider and stage coach driver, all giving a varied experience in a school, the graduation from which left the scholar an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

An exciting experience in the Union army as a soldier and subsequently as a confident and scout of his commanders in the desultory and guerrilla warfare of the southwest left him at its finish well known as an all around frontiersman, competent to advise, to guide and to lead. These qualities soon brought him to the attention of such distinguished commanders as Gen. W. T. Sherman, Lieut. Gen. Sheridan and Gen. Crook, Custer, Merritt, Carr, Royal, Miles, Dodge and others and secured his appointment as chief of scouts in the United States army during its numerous Indian campaigns in the west.

His career in this line identified him with the great fighting epoch between the red man and the white man waged by Gen. Sheridan after the Civil War that temporarily ended in 1876, but was effectively finished in the Ghost Dance war in the decisive battle of Wounded Knee in 1890-91 campaign with the Northern Sioux.

Wins Name of Buffalo Bill

During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad young Cody attached himself to a camp of United States troops protecting the laborers and won his sobriquet of "Buffalo Bill" by taking a contract to supply the entire force with fresh Buffalo meat for a certain period, killing one deer for each contract 4280 buffaloes. On one occasion he killed the noted Cheyenne Chief Yellow Hand in the presence of Indians and troops.

He became known to juvenile America in the stories of western adventure written by E. A. C. Judson who wrote under the nom de plume of Ned Buntlin.

With the advance of civilization, finding his occupation on the western plains gone, he went on the stage where he remained several years playing leading parts in dramas depicting life on the frontier. Later in association with Nate Salsbury, he originated his wild west show with which he toured this country for many years and on one occasion visited the principal cities of Europe, where he was warmly received and entertained by royalty.

He was elected to the Nebraska legislature in 1872.

Colonel Cody, in 1866 was married to Miss Louisa Frederici.

SENTENCE HINTERLITER TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Jury Returns Verdict of Manslaughter in Case of Youth Charged with Murder of His Sweetheart

Olney, Ill., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Emma Hinterliter, mother of Roy Hinterliter, sentenced to life imprisonment after having been adjudged guilty of manslaughter in his trial in connection with the death last July of Miss Elizabeth Ratcliffe, came to Olney from Wabash county today to say good-bye to her son.

Mrs. Hinterliter was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Harriett Hinterliter.

The mother and sister remained with the boy for half an hour.

The jurors declare Hinterliter made his conviction certain by his admission on the witness stand.

Judge Miller told Hinterliter the time of his release was entirely in his own hands.

"If you obey the rules of the institution and show that you merit release, your term may not be an extended one," the judge said. Personally, I have nothing to say. The jury has decided. Therefore it is my duty to sentence you to the southern Illinois prison at Chester for the period of your natural life."

FINDS CHILDREN SHOT TO DEATH; WIFE DYING

Greeley, Colo., Man Discovers Tragedy On Returning Home

Woman Apparently Had Killed Children and Then Shot Herself—Friends Discredit Charge of Infidelity Against Husband

Greeley, Colo., Jan. 10.—Returning to his home from work early tonight Everett Crozier, a farmer residing near here found the bodies of his five children lying in the house shot to death and his wife lying unconscious in a field nearby with a pistol in her hand.

The children were Lois, aged 12; Mildred, 8; Margaret, 5; Mary, 2; and the fifth was an infant.

Mrs. Crozier who was found after a search by the husband, Deputy Sheriff and neighbors, died soon after. A bullet wound in the head apparently was self-inflicted.

Late today Dr. W. P. Allen of Greeley, received a telephone message from Mrs. Crozier asking him to come at once to the Crozier home. "You're needed here," she told the physician.

Nearing the home, Dr. Allen encountered Crozier and when asked the reason for the call Crozier said he knew of none. When the two men entered the house the bodies of four children were found lying on a bed and the baby in a cradle nearby.

Crozier said he heard no shots. A note found on a table and believed to have been written by Mrs. Crozier, accused Crozier of infidelity and declared "I don't want my children to grow up in a house of shame."

A search, in which neighbors joined resulted in the discovery of the woman in a dry ditch nearly a mile from the home.

The Croziers were married fifteen years ago at Mount City, Mo.

Neighbors and friends tonight declared they knew of no grounds for the charges against Crozier contained in the note. They added that Mrs. Crozier had been acting strangely of late and believed a neighbor woman from her home with a butcher knife.

CALLS FOR INVENTORY OF STATE'S FINANCES

Lowden Acts in Line With His Inaugural Announcement That His Will Be a Business Administration

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Governor Lowden today called for a statement of the financial condition of every bureau and commission under him, in line with his inaugural announcement that the administration would be conducted along business lines.

This inventory of finances will enable the executive to form an accurate estimate of what the various bureaus can do before June 1, 1917, when the fiscal year expires.

The governor declared emphatically that his first interest in his administration was the passage of his consolidation bill, the administrative code of Illinois, he had been asked for his opinion on other measures which have been talked of as likely to be passed this session.

"I have not formed any opinion of other bills," he said. "I don't know anything about them and to be frank, I don't want to until this other measure is out of the way."

THAW'S WHEREABOUTS REMAIN A MYSTERY

Belief is Expressed Fugitive Is In Pittsburgh

New York Authorities Make Detailed Explanations as to How He Slipped Thru Their Fingers When They Were "Hot on His Trail"

New York, Jan. 10.—The whereabouts of Harry K. Thaw, indicted here on a charge of kidnapping and assaulting 19 year old Fred Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., remained a mystery today to the district attorney and his cops of detectives who have been searching for him, who directly or indirectly the police of all cities have received notice that he is wanted here.

Believe Thaw at His Home.
Unofficially the belief was expressed at the prosecutor's office that Thaw had made his way to his home in Pittsburgh and there, under protection of his family, undoubtedly was being advised by competent counsel as to what course to pursue. The authorities here made detailed explanations as to how he slipped thru their fingers when they were "hot on his trail" both here and in Philadelphia shortly before and after the indictment was found against him.

His escape was explained by the fact, they said, that since he was so well known they gave their chief attention to arresting the man known to them as George O'Byrnes, indicted jointly with Thaw on the kidnapping count. While waiting for an opportunity to catch O'Byrnes, Thaw escaped.

Shortly afterward a man answering the description the Gump boy had given of Thaw's companion, appeared at Thaw's hotel in Philadelphia and was arrested on the assumption that he was O'Byrnes. He proved, however, to be Oliver Brower, formerly of Utica, N. Y., also associated with Thaw, but against whom there was no indictment.

Altho the arrest of Brower was at first a disappointment, the district attorney's men say they found him valuable in developing their case. A number of documents and letters having an important bearing on Thaw's relations with young Gump were found in Brower's possession and some of this evidence was presented today before the grand jury. It was expected another indictment might result.

Brower's movements were traced and it was found that subsequent to the alleged assault on Gump he had gone to a New York hotel. A suit case left there by Brower, having the letter "T" on it, was seized by the district attorney.

O'Byrnes Disappears.
Meanwhile the authorities here say O'Byrnes has disappeared. They have no idea where he is and no better description of him than that given by the Gump boy to guide them in the search.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Gump was in consultation thruout the day with assistant district attorney William Harman Black who is presenting the case to the grand jury. He refused to give any further details of the information he has against Thaw, saying that since it was inextricably bound up with the matter now before the grand jury it would be improper for him to say anything at present.

On advice from Pittsburgh that the police there would not arrest Thaw unless they had a copy of the indictment against him, Mr. Black tonight sent a copy to them.

Quest Brown Be Held
Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—After the release on $1200 bail today, of Oliver F. Brower, the local authorities received a telegram from Assistant District Attorney Black of New York requesting them to hold Brower on the charge of "conspiracy to kidnap" in connection with the indictment against Harry K. Thaw, as the result of allegations made by Fred Gump, Jr., of Kansas City.

Brower who is 38 years old and lives in Pittsburgh was arrested here last night in mistake for George F. O'Byrnes charged with aiding and abetting in the alleged kidnapping of Gump.

Brower left the city hall today as soon as he secured his liberty and has not been seen since. His attorney said he might have gone to Pittsburgh and that he expected to see him again prior to his hearing on Friday. The attorney while admitting his client was acquainted with Thaw, refused to discuss their relations. Detectives working on the case however, said that Brower had told them that Thaw feared trouble from Gump and had entrusted him with letters and other papers.

Find Several Letters.
Several letters and memoranda said to belong to Thaw were found on Brower when he was arrested. Among them was an unsigned statement which the police say was written by Gump at the instance of Thaw. It was headed "My Dear Master," and in it the writer said he wanted to show how he felt "when getting a whipping." "That fact in itself," the statement said, "signifies that I am entirely submissive to you and hold no animosity to you, but only strengthen the desire to do better in the future."

Among other things found in Brower's possessions, according to the detectives were letters written by Thaw to friends asking if they could find positions for boys.

Thaw was reported to have been in the vicinity of Wilkes Barre, Pa. today, but up to a late hour tonight he had not been located.

BOMB WRECKS FOUR ROOMS IN HOTEL

Dozen Guests of Toledo Hostelry Knocked Down — None seriously Injured

Toledo, O., Jan. 10.—Four rooms in a downtown hotel where strike-breaking linemen in the employ of the Ohio State Telephone company, are housed, were wrecked by a bomb tonight. The explosion occurred on the third floor near the rear of the building. A dozen guests were knocked down. So far as is known none were seriously injured.

The clerk of the hotel said the room in which the explosion occurred was occupied by C. C. Connors, of Cleveland, a marine engineer. Connors was uninjured. The room below Connors' room is occupied by two strike-breakers who were at the time. Two rooms on the third floor and two on the second floor were blown out and locks were blown from the doors. Steam and water pipes were broken off and a part of the hotel was flooded.

The strike of linemen and operators of the Ohio State Telephone company, has been in effect two months.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

The battle in Russia in the region of Riga apparently is growing in intensity, but owing to divergent reports by the Berlin and Petrograd war offices the results attained are somewhat belated. While Berlin asserts that southwest of Riga all attacks by the Russians have been unsuccessful, Petrograd reports that near Lake Raitis the Russians captured German positions between the Tirl marsh and the river Aa and advanced their line about one and one-third miles southward. The Germans in the region of Kalnzem delivered a counter attack on the Russians who had occupied a position east of the village but it was put down by the Russians.

One Out of the Country.

Besides Ropp, the defendants were Von Schack, vice-consul, Wilhelm von Brincken, J. F. Van Koolbergen, Margaret E. Cornell, Charles C. Crowley and Louis J. Smith. Van Koolbergen was out of the country and could not be brought here to stand trial as his alleged offense was non-extraditable.

The grand jury investigated the alleged conspiracy the latter part of 1915 and the indictments were filed Feb. 14, 1916 and March 4, 1916.

The case went to the jury at 4 p. m. The verdict was reached at 8:30.

Smith, technically a defendant, was given immunity for testifying for the government.

To Hear Motions Friday.

Bopp and VonSchack were released on their own recognizance. Miss Cornell, Crowley and Von Brincken, who were required to give $10,000 bonds at the time of their indictment were given their liberty on those bonds. The court set Friday at 10 o'clock a. m., to hear motions and fix new bonds.

A crimson flush was the consul's acknowledgement of the verdict—that and a shrug of the shoulders followed by a sigh and the remark to VonBrincken, "well at least it is over."

Jury Asks for Telegrams.

Shortly after retiring the jury asked for some of the telegrams that had been exhibited in the case.

These exhibits were left with the marshal when the jury went to dinner, but were called for on their return. The verdict was reached at about half an hour after they got back from dinner which required two hours.

Consul General Bopp said.

"In spite of the verdict I must still maintain my innocence and we will leave nothing undone in our efforts to secure a reversal. I cannot say that I am happy at the outcome but I cannot say I am surprised."

"Our case was very complicated and we were allowed only four and a half hours, which to make our arguments, took a day. It took four hours to deliver his charge to the jury."

"I believe also that the outcome would have been in our favor but for the long and unusual charge of the judge and particularly his instructions to the jury as to the facts. We will appeal of course."

Congratulate Mrs. Adams.

Mrs. Annette Adams, assistant United States district attorney who conducted the case for the government received the congratulations of attorneys and friends. District Attorney Preston became ill before the preparation of the case was well under way and it was on Mrs. Adams' shoulders that his cloak fell. The strength of the government's case, Preston said was due largely to Mrs. Adams' careful work.

The maximum penalty on the misdemeanor charge is a fine of $5,000 and one year's imprisonment and on the military expedition or felony charge a fine of $10,000 and two years' imprisonment.

JURY FINDS BOPP AND FOUR ATTACHES GUILTY

Reach Verdict After Deliberating Four and a Half Hours

Defendants Accused of Having Planned and Executed Mysterious Planting of America and Canada—Louis J. Smith is Given Immunity

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—Franz Bopp, German consul general here and four of his attaches or employees, were found guilty tonight by a jury in the United States district court of having violated this country's neutrality.

Deep Silence in Room.

"Guilty on all charges," announced the foreman. A deep silence was upon the room.

All five defendants were accused of having planned to blow up munition plants in America and Canada, steamships carrying supplies to the entente allies, railroad bridges and military trains.

Two actions were concentrated in the trial. The defendants were charged with a violation of the act of July 1, 1890, by conspiring to restrain interstate and foreign commerce, by destroying factories, railroads and steamships.

The other action was for alleged violation of Sections 13 and 37 of the United States criminal code in conspiring to set on foot and provide and prepare means for a military enterprise to be carried on from within the United States against the territory and dominion of one king of Great Britain and Ireland.

EXPERIMENTING WITH COIN WASHING MACHINE

Director of Washington Mint Testing Machine Which Also Dries and Counts the Coins

Washington, Jan. 21.—Director of the Mint Von Engelken is experimenting with a coin washing machine, designed to clean silver coins much after the manner that paper money is laundered at present. The machine is largely Mr. Von Engelken's invention and is designed also to dry and count the coins. Two of them, it is believed, would be sufficient to care for all the dirty coins in the country, restoring them to their former cleanliness and lustre.

Pennies will not be washed by the new machine, but may be colorized by an electrical process which slightly changes their color, makes them practically impervious to dirt and hardens them. Thousands of blanks have been struck by the Philadelphia mint and experiments will soon be conducted on a large scale.

The new dimes because of their slightly concave design are said to be as dirt catchers, without equal in American coins, and many badly soiled specimens have already been returned to the mint altho they have been in circulation but a short time.

ASSEMBLY TO BE ASKED FOR FIFTY MILLIONS

Legislative Reference Bureau Prepares Estimates

Bureau Will Place Its Budget Before the Legislature When It Convenes Tuesday—Expect Budgets To Vary Considerably

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Approximately $50,000,000 will be asked of the fiftieth Illinois General Assembly to operate the state of Illinois during the next two years, according to estimates prepared today by Finley P. Bell, secretary of the legislative reference bureau.

The bureau which has received estimates from the heads of state departments and institutions will place its budget before the legislature when it convenes next Tuesday.

The bureau's budget presented to the 49th general assembly called for $45,404,602.30, and the assembly appropriated $47,229,336. The present budget asks $4,500,000 for good roads as compared with an appropriation of $2,982,790 by the 49th assembly; $8,000,000 for the University of Illinois and $8,000,000 for maintenance of the common schools. The university's last appropriation was $5,165,000. It now asks $2,000,000 for construction of a new university library building, a university museum and new gymnasium for men and women students.

The budget submitted by the legislative reference bureau and the executive budget which Governor Lowden has in process of preparation are expected to vary considerably.

The governor's legislative program calls for elimination of some of the departments which have made estimates for the bureau.

Entered at postoffice in Jacksonville as second class mail matter.

The senatorial contest almost two years in the future is already quite well under way with Congressman Medill McCormick, Mayor Thompson of Chicago and ex-Governor Charles Deneen all avowed candidates. They are all men who can make some claims to fitness and it is noteworthy that the three live in Chicago. Possibly when election time comes around down state voters will favor a senator not a resident of Chicago.

In Kansas they frequently propose new and unique things in legislation. A recently elected legislator there has proposed a law which will prevent anyone who has been drunk from running an automobile at any time within 24 hours after. That cannot be classed as all as a freak legislation for liquor has caused many a disastrous automobile accident. The railroads no longer employ men who drink intoxicants when on duty or near the time of duty, and the public runs just as much risk when those who drive automobiles imbibe too freely.

In various cities throughout the United States examinations are soon to be held when enlisted men in the national guard in all of these states will be given the first chance to enter the United States military academy as cadets. These examinations will be in accordance with the authority given the secretary of war by congress to appoint each year to West Point twelve enlisted men from the militia from each state and territory. It is an unfortunate fact that just now the national guard of the states is somewhat disorganized because of the oath guardsmen are required to take carrying with it an agreement for five years of service.

Graft Charges
It's getting to be a common thing for charges of graft in Chicago police circles. The recent charges against Chief of Police Healey are the most sensational made for a number of years. State's Attorney Hoyne is back of the charges and declares that he has the "goods" on the police department. Hoyne is a vigorous able prosecutor but it is yet too early to judge of the merits of the case, for as in times past, some of those who have confessed may be discredited. Whether or not the charges are true, distrust of the police department will be fostered and consequent damage done to law and order in the big city.

General Joffre's Birthday
General Joseph Joffre, in whose honor the title and rank of a marshal of France has been revived on the occasion of his retirement from the chief command of the French armies, will celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary tomorrow, having been born January 12, 1852, in the Pyrenees-Orientales. General Joffre's retirement marks the close of an active military career that has extended over a period of more than forty years. At the outbreak of the present war he was filling the position of Chief of Staff. Previous to that time he had made his greatest reputation as a military engineer. Before the war was many days old, however, he had given evidence of his mastery of all branches of military science. It was due to General Joffre's genius of strategy, more than to any other one factor that entered into the situation, that the Germans were defeated from their march on Paris and then driven back toward the frontier.

An Important Rate Contest
A great deal of importance attaches to the case now being tried out in the courts wherein the railroads are seeking to prevent the Illinois utility commission from requiring a 2 cent fare in Illinois. If the railroads win out the authority of the interstate commerce commission supercedes that of the utility commission even within the state boundaries. The basis of the ruling thus far made has been that the rate was discriminatory in that travelers from certain points were required to pay 24 cents into St. Louis and those from other points but two cents.

One way to get at the matter would be for the Missouri rate to be fixed at 2 cents and the law so changed that the railroads are not allowed to charge more for interstate travel than for intrastate travel. Nearly all of the central western states have the 2 cent law in effect. If the ruling is made in favor of the interstate commerce commission, the utility commissions in this and other states will be bereft of much of their authority with reference to freight and passenger rates.

To Complete Danish Isles Purchase
According to official advice from Copenhagen the ratification by King Christian of the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States is to be despatched on a steamer leaving Copenhagen today for New York. The exchange of ratifications will mark the concluding step in the negotiations and the consummation of the deal will follow when Congress makes an appropriation of $25,000,000, which is the purchase price stipulated in the treaty. It is expected that the appropriation will be made at this session, but it is considered doubtful if the present Congress will make any effort to create a permanent form of government for the newly-acquired possessions.

Before taking possession of the islands there are many details involved in the transfer to be worked out by the executive department of the government involving contracts and business concessions in the islands which the treaty guaranteed would be continued. These will be adjusted, in all probability, together with a temporary form of government for the islands, which would prevail pending congressional action. The dance made a national holiday by not being in a hurry to sell to the U. S.

A Step Toward Prohibition
The upholding of the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law by the United States supreme court is considered by "dry" advocates as an important step toward prohibition. One argument frequently made in opposition to prohibition has been that the adoption of such a law in any state would not prevent the shipment of liquor from another state. The court decision thus given fixes the right of a state to settle the liquor question for the territory within its own confines and is a very important decision from a "dry" viewpoint.

There are many citizens who in the past have taken the position that they would favor the enforcement of prohibitory laws in their own state if that would put an end to the liquor traffic, but they would not favor the law because liquor would still be shipped in from "wet" territory and the business carried on with the revenue going elsewhere. Now this argument is swept away. Another effect of the decision will be to lessen the potency of the argument in favor of a national prohibition. The citizens of each state can now settle the question for themselves and United States law will protect them from shipment of liquor into their state.

Another Auto Club Begins.
Work was commenced yesterday for the organization of the proposed Morgan county automobile and good roads club. This is an undertaking which should receive hearty support not only from automobile owners but from business men generally. The sole purpose of the new organization is to help keep the roads of Morgan county in better condition. In other localities the automobile associations have been strong factors in creating sentiment for good roads and in helping with the actual work.

In the list of the important things which such an organization can foster is the marking of automobile trails thru the county. It was not at first recognized how important this work is. But the past year or two has demonstrated the fact very clearly that cross country automobile travel follows the marked trails. The marking of a trail does more than make the pathway plain for tourists for the very fact of marking and the increased travel that way invariably create interest in keeping the highway in condition. Every business man in Morgan county is interested in the marking of automobile trails because travel by automobile is constantly increasing and every tourist who comes this way is almost certain to spend some money before he passes across the county lines.

"Buffalo Bill," Historic Figure
William F. Cody, known the world over as "Buffalo Bill," died at the home of his sister in Denver, Colo., at noon Wednesday. His passing removes one of the few remaining links between the old and the new west.
Buffalo Bill lived in the days when the west was in the process of making. He in company with others equally well known but who have long since crossed the great divide, had a large part in that making. His life was filled with exciting adventure and while perhaps somewhat exaggerated yet to those of the present generation, the story of his life truthfully told would read like some fairy tale.

When a mere boy he was one of the men who established the famous pony express. In those days it took courage to ride one of the routes thru the western country. The riders not only had to deal with Indians in all their savagery but also with bandits and robbers of the white race. The pony express was a wonderful thing in those days of long distances and few railroads and some of the time made was marvelous. It was from that pony express, it is said, that the present great Wells-Fargo & Company express sprang.

It was, however, as a scout and guide to the Indian fighting of the frontier that Buffalo Bill achieved his greatest fame. Thruout this country today there are thousands of grey haired men whose highest ambition in their youth was to emulate the career of Buffalo Bill. Many of them ran away from home to go out west and hunt Indians and buffalo.

Buffalo Bill had a great part in the winning of the West, and right well he performed it. He was one of the few who lived in that day of man-made law who did not die a violent death for every man carried his life in the hollow of his hand. He was a good citizen and today there are thousands of Americans who feel a personal loss in his going.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Information received here today indicates an increasingly serious situation between China and Russia over the recent reported killing of from 200 to 400 Chinese by Cossacks in a riot at Kaahu, in the interior province of Sinkiang or Turkistan.

The rioters were Cossacks, who annually go south into Sinkiang during the fall and return under escort of Chinese troops as soon as the harvest is completed.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

THE SLEEPING PORCH

There still are folks who sleep indoors, in closed up rooms they heave their snores, and breathe the stale and stagnant air which harbors germs and microbes there. And when the shades of night are spread and they crawl stifly out of bed, they say they're feeling worse, a heap, that ere they had their little sleep. I used to slumber in a room that was as airtight as a tomb, and I was always out of whack, with rheumatism in my back, and corns and bunions on my knees, and every other punk disease. But now a sleeping porch is mine, and over me the night winds whine. I rise when comes the sunrise glow, and from my whiskers brush the snow, and thaw the ice from nose and ears, and greet the day with hearty cheers. And I'm so hearty and so hale, the undertaker lifts a wail. He used to think he'd get me soon, and plant me out beneath the moon, when I was groaning of my ills, and blowing cold for beeswax pills. But seeing the on buoyant feet go scotching like an acrobat, he doesn't know where he is at.

MOB THREATENS LIVES OF JUDGE AND ATTORNEY

Demand Negro be Brought Back for Trial Immediately When Continuance of Case is Granted.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 10.—The lives of Circuit Judge Charles Bush and Commonwealth Attorney Denny Smith were threatened by a mob at Murray, Ky., today when the case of Lube Martin, a negro charged with killing Guthrie Duiguid a white man, was continued until the next term of court, according to reports reaching here.

Martin had been held at Hopkinsville, Ky., for safe keeping and was taken to Murray last night. Because of a fear of mob violence he was held in the court house all night guarded by a large force of deputy sheriffs.

This morning when his case was called for trial counsel who had been appointed to defend him asked for a continuance because of the discovery of new evidence which there had been opportunity to develop. This was granted and the negro was started back to Hopkinsville, his departure being kept a secret for a time.

When persons in the court room learned of the continuance granted Martin and of his removal, according to the reports reaching here, a large crowd immediately surrounded the judge and commonwealth's attorney, demanding that the negro be brought back for trial immediately, threatening if this were not done to lynch both. Attorneys on both sides are said to have agreed in the face of the situation which threatened to have the negro brought back here in the morning and placed on trial.

DANIELS CONFERS WITH STEEL MEN

Attempts to Secure Reductions from Them in Prices of Supplies for the Navy.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Secretary Daniels conferred today with representatives of the Bethlehem, Midvale and Crucible Steel companies, in another effort to secure reductions from them in prices of supplies for the navy including shells of the armor piercing type, 16-inch rifles and building material for ships. No agreement was reached, but Mr. Daniels said he would make known the department's decision at least on some of the questions involved early next week.

As to shells, it was said the manufacturers declared they could not submit prices to compete with the Hadfields, limited, the English concern which recently offered to supply big gun projectiles to the navy at more than $200 per shell below the lowest American bidder. Slight reductions proposed by American companies today were not satisfactory and it is understood that Hadfields will be given contracts for a larger part of the order.

The Midvale and Bethlehem companies offered to make reductions in their quotations on the thirty two 16-inch rifles for the battleships Maryland, West Virginia, California and Colorado. The proposals were taken under consideration although they did not satisfy some of the navy officials.

TRUMBULL APPEALS FOR PEOPLE'S CO-OPERATION

Declare Economic Problems of Railroads are the People's Problems.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 10.—Frank Trumbull, chairman of the railway executives' advisory committee and chairman of the board of directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway company at the annual dinner of the Louisville Transportation Club tonight, appealed for the co-operation of the American people in solving the economic problems confronting the railroads.

"They have," he said, "the opportunity to accomplish the most important piece of constructive work since the passage of the federal reserve banking act."

He declared it was the people's problem "just as vitally" as it was the railroad's problem and that the previous policy of the public of considering the railroads as something "from which they might properly wring the last possible ounce of service at the lowest possible cost, has had but one effect which today is glaringly apparent."

"Today, even after the most prosperous year in their history," Mr. Trumbull said, "we find the railroads utterly unable to meet the demands of commerce. Railroad efficiency has been seriously impaired and railroad of the whole nation is suffering from the lack of its fundamental need—adequate transportation. To this statement doubtless the railroad critics would reply that during 1916 the railroads earned a billion dollars net—the greatest sum in their history. This sounds impressive but it shows a return of less than six percent on the railroad property devoted to the use of the public."

And in the face of a constantly rising cost of labor and material this margin of earnings is bound to decrease."

A decision is expected within a few weeks after summary action on the important issues is not deemed probable. Feb. 26 has been mentioned as the possible date for the decision as the court reconvenes on that day after recess of three weeks to prepare opinions.

Three days of arguments were concluded this afternoon. The closing address was made in support of the law by Frank H. Starnes, special assistant to Kansas City, special assistant to the attorney general who contended vigorously that congress has authority to regulate railroad employees' wages in exercising its constitutional power over interstate commerce.

Attorney General Gregory, several senators and many railroad and other lawyers followed today's proceedings.

SUFFRAGISTS PICKET WHITE HOUSE GATES

Inaugurate Militant "Silent Picketing" To Force Their Cause Upon President's Attention.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Twelve women with suffrage banners stood at the main gates of the White House grounds today, inaugurating what leaders of the Congressional Union for woman suffrage call militant "silent picketing" to force their cause upon President Wilson's attention.

"Pickets" were at the two entrances from ten o'clock this morning until dark, tired ones being relieved from time to time, and tonight it was announced that other gates would be guarded tomorrow and daily until March 4 when the suffragists plan to bring their campaign for a federal amendment to a close with a big parade.

The women, wearing yellow, purple and white ribbons across their chests, stood three on each side of the gates, over each of which was held a banner inscribed "Mr. President, what will you do for women suffrage?"

White House officials and the city police made no effort to interfere and it was said that as long as the women created no disorder no official attention would be paid to them. The president himself passed the "pickets" only once, and then was not recognized by the women. Mrs. Wilson passed in and out several times.

When darkness fell the tired women gave up the task and marched back to headquarters with banners flying.

According to the union official the number of pickets will be increased from day to day.

REPORT AGREEMENT ON HARBORS BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Final agreement on the actual rivers and harbors appropriation bill was reported today by the house committee. The measure carries $38,155,329 of which something over $10,000,000 is for new projects and the remainder for continuing or maintaining existing projects.

Chairman Sparkman will report the bill this week with the hope of having it taken up as soon as the pending postoffice bill is disposed of. An adverse minority report will be made by Representative Freer of Wisconsin.

STATE BOARD PLANS CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

Passes Resolution Providing for Exposition in Connection With State Fair in 1918.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—An exposition to commemorate the centennial of Illinois is being planned by the state board of agriculture.

The board in session today passed a resolution providing for an exposition in connection with the state fair in 1918, continuing for a period of 30 days. The board will cooperate with the Illinois Centennial commission in promoting the 100th anniversary celebration.

A committee, appointed to confer with the centennial commission, is composed of J. E. Taggart, president, Freeport; Len Small, Kankakee, vice president; R. H. Heide, James J. McComb and Dr. John Dill Robertson, all of Chicago, and Frank Thornber, Monmouth.

A $100,000 centennial building and a $5,000 log cabin to be a replica of Lincoln's birth place at Hodgenville, Ky., are included in the exposition plans. The centennial structure will be used later as a child welfare, art and health building.

The board decided that in the future outside space in machinery hall at the fair grounds would be free and that stall and pen fees should be reduced.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S FUNDS ARE DEPLETED

Brundage States He Will Have to Ask Legislature for Appropriations.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Attorney General Brundage stated today he would be compelled to ask the legislature for appropriations before he could carry on some of the work of his department.

The inheritance tax department is particularly in need of funds, he stated. The office records show, he said, that a month ago all inheritance tax attorneys were dismissed because there was no money to pay them. Since that time the state's interests in inheritance tax matters have had no attention, said he attorney general.

"The special appropriation of $100,000 passed by the extra session of the 49th assembly has now only $5,900," declared Mr. Brundage. "The appropriation of $60,000 of the regular session, which provided pay for special attorneys, has only $600 left. A number of large estates have been settled lately without the state having a representative on hand."

Mr. Brundage said he would not be able to determine until next week how much he would ask the legislature for.

The legislature in 1915 appropriated $548,800 for the attorney general's department. Of this $109,600 was for inheritance tax work.

DOG'S OWNER DECIDED BY MODERN SOLOMON

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 10.—A unique case which hinged upon a rivet in a coon dog's tail, two men claiming ownership, was decided by a modern Solomon sitting in a justice court here today.

The man who was awarded ownership of the dog gave evidence that the dog belonged to him, and that he could identify it by a rivet in its tail. As there was no rivet in the dog's tail, the justice determined that the part with the rivet had been cut off by the other claimant and so made his award.

GOVERNOR WORKS ON CONSOLIDATION PLANS

Lowden Spends Considerable Time in Perfecting Plans for His Reorganization Scheme.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—Governor Frank O. Lowden today spent considerable time in perfecting plans for his reorganization scheme.

Officials of various state boards conferred with him in reference to the effect of the consolidation of state board and commission would have on their departments.

The state board of horticulture met with the governor this afternoon, and during the day a committee from the board of agriculture conferred with him. The latter committee is composed of J. E. Taggart, president, Len Small, vice president and B. M. Davidson, secretary.

There is not the slightest opposition to Governor Lowden's consolidation plan, from the board of agriculture, was the statement of Secretary Davidson today.

"The reports that the board is antagonistic to the governor's plans is absolutely untrue," said Mr. Davidson. "Our committee is going to confer with him to determine the best means of bringing about the consolidation."

Governor Lowden has proposed to place all agricultural agencies in one department.

The ranks of job hunters had thinned out today. There were only a few stragglers in the corridors of the capitol. The only appointment announced was that of Kenneth Guyton of Aurora to be a clerk in the state treasurer's office.

PLEADS FOR THORO BUSINESS KNOWLEDGE

Former Head of Trade Commission Addresses Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10.—A plea to the American business man to learn his own business in order that he can eliminate waste and thereby compete with foreign trade at the end of the war was made here tonight by Edward N. Hurley, former chairman of the federal trade commission in an address before the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hurley said: "Get next to your own business! Call in an expert accountant and find out what it is costing you to manufacture! Then ask your neighbor what it is costing him. In that way you will begin to cut out waste. When a German importation or a French importation comes along, you won't find it priced lower than your goods. You will be able to compete anywhere."

SENATE CONFIRMS DANIELS' NOMINATION

Part of Debate Published Reveals Bitterness of Fight Waged Against Appointment.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Confirmation of Winthrop M. Daniels of New Jersey to succeed himself as a member of interstate commerce commission was voted by the senate tonight and, contrary to custom, a part of the debate on the nomination was made public revealing the bitterness of the fight waged against it in executive sessions.

The vote taken after opposition had delayed action for nearly a month, stood 42 to 15. All of the senators of the so-called Progressive wing of the Republican party and one Democrat, Senator Hollis voted in the negative. Fourteen Republicans joined the Democrats voting for confirmation.

Excerpts from the executive debate made public include a speech by Senator Cummins attacking Commissioner Daniels' fitness for a place on the commission because of rulings he handed down as public utilities commissioner of New Jersey and declaring that in granting increases to the railroads in the advance rate case the interstate commerce commission led by Mr. Daniels "ignored the law and exercised an authority which has never been and never will be conferred on any commission."

A reply by Senator Newlands defending the commissioner's part in both of these cases also was given out.

The officers started at 11 o'clock this morning. The country over which they flew is rough and barren.

In describing the "psychology" of the game Livermore said he never lost his nerve and that confidence in one's self is the first requisite to success.

FROM THE EDUCATORS' NOTEBOOK

Educators and religious leaders will get together to consider the religious significance of the present world struggle in the convention of the Religious Education Convention which meets at Boston February 27 to March 1. The convention will take up the theme "Religious Education of the Young."

The program is planned to face the question How should youth be trained and prepared to meet the needs and demands that the great changes sure to follow the world war will create? It is therefore a convention of "preparedness," but not a "preparedness by armament" but by education.

The association is an international organization. It has members in all the warring countries and it is expected that the attendance will represent many nations and lands.

John Wesley Hill, who has been elected Chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., resigning general secretaryship of the World Court movement to accept the post, is a Methodist Episcopal clergyman who has held pastorates in Washington, Utah, Montana, Pennsylvania and New York.

Of late he has been a lecturer and a promoter of civic causes, and a popular campaigner for the Republican party in some of its state and presidential campaigns. He has been a Chautauqua lecturer on international peace, and he has been active in promoting the policy of the National Civic Federation in efforts to reconcile capital and organized labor. He received his education at Ohio Northern University and his theological training at Boston University. The announcement that Rev. Mr. Hill had been elected chancellor was accompanied by a statement that the trustees and faculty are planning the greatest Lincoln birthday celebration ever held in the United States at Cumberland Gap on Feb. 10, 11, and 12.

Calvin Thomas, head of the Department of Germanic languages in Columbia University, New York City, is acting as chairman of a committee which has been organized to increase the study of the German language in higher institutions of learning in the United States. The committee is now negotiating with not less than 23 such colleges and universities. Prof. Thomas, who specialized in philology at the University of Leipzig, has been professor of German literature at Columbia since 1896. He has been prominent in the Modern Language Association of America, and once its president. He has compiled an anthology of German literature. Since the war opened he has written something for the press, defending Germany's policy and methods.

A school on wheels is operated on the rails of the Southern Pacific coast, and is reported in excellent condition. In an extra section gang which has a crew of fifty men, in the Ventura district of the Los Angeles division of the railroad, there are twenty-five children who are being taught daily in a box car which has been fitted up with benches. They have a teacher who instructs them daily in English and Spanish. The results, thus far, have been gratifying. As the gang moves along from place to place, so does the school, and the children never have to miss a day's attendance. Improvements besides, are being planned. The superintendent has requisitioned an old passenger coach which will be fitted up with benches and blackboards and will be easier to heat. The conditions in this way will be materially improved in this unique schoolroom.

A hospital car for the wounded and children in the camp who may become ill will also follow the school on wheels.

Dr. Frank D. HOUSE RULES COMMITTEE ADJOURNS UNTIL TODAY

Does Not Take Final Action On Resolution for Investigation of Rumors of "Leak."

Washington, Jan. 10.—After a two-hour executive session late today the house rules committee adjourned until tomorrow without taking final action on Representative Wood's resolution for an investigation of rumors of a leak in advance of President Wilson's peace note.

A sub-committee was appointed to draft contempt charges against Thomas W. Lawson for use in case the committee decides to report the Boston financier for refusing to give names in connection with rumors he repeated.

When the committee adjourned there was pending a resolution offered by Representative Campbell of Kansas, Republican, designed to broaden the scope of the inquiry so as to meet Mr. Lawson's objection that because the present investigation was "preliminary and limited to a specific 'leak'" he could not give the names of men high in official life who he had heard were involved in a system for making money out of the stock market on official information. Mr. Campbell said he wanted to "call Mr. Lawson's hand."

There were indications tonight that Representative Campbell's resolution or one similar might be adopted. This would result in recalling to the stand Mr. Lawson, who still is in Washington subject to the committee's orders.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Mrs. Robert Barrett Browning, widow of the son of Robert Browning the famous poet, has taken up her residence in Washington. Her husband, who was himself noted as a sculptor, was the only son of the poet and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, herself famous as a poet, and whose marriage to Robert Browning was called "the most perfect love story in English literature." The younger Browning couple made their home in America for many years, before the husband's death. The present Mrs. Browning is an Englishwoman of wealth, of much beauty and charm.

The women of the United States are yearly adding to their reputation as the most opulent gem-owners the world has ever seen, and even the treasures of eastern potentates pale in value before the sums given by Madam America for the diamonds and other precious stones sent to her from all the mines of the earth, and for which she has a particular fondness. Despite the higher cost of living, war profits and general prosperity combined to encourage in 1916 the heaviest importation of diamonds, pearls and other gems in the history of the United States. Customs appraisers have given as the value of imports in precious stones for the year just ended the fabulous sum of $51,482,262, and an advance of over five millions over the previous banner year, that of 1915, when the gem importation was a little over $45,000,000. As these sums represent only appraisal at the customs and not the cost to the purchasing public, which will be a little more than double, it has been computed that the cost to the American public for gems for the past fifteen years would foot up to $900,000,000. Some sparklers and some sparkle. In spite of what we hear about the decline of marriage, a few American girls must have been getting engaged.

Mr. Wolfe was a candidate for the United States senate against Robert M. LaFollette, Republican in the recent election.

REPORTS ON DEATHS IN SOUTHERN ARMY

Chief Surgeon Reports 274 Deaths in an Army of More than 150,000 During Last Seven Months.

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 10.—In an army of more than 150,000 national guardsmen and regulars, 274 deaths have occurred during the last seven months, it was shown in the official annual report of the chief surgeon of the southern department, made public here tonight.

Of the deaths 108 were classified as caused by violence while 166 were caused by disease.

Of the total of 274 deaths, 47 were caused by gunshot wounds. This includes the eleven men who were killed at Carrizal in the engagement on June 21, and others in the San Ignacio raid of June 15, Parral and other clashes. These men were regulars.

There have been 29 accidental deaths. Nineteen have committed suicide. Ten have drowned and three died from sunstroke.

Out of the 166 deaths from disease, 44 were due to pneumonia and this, according to the report was the largest number for any specific disease. Thirty-four of these occurred during the month of December and most of them in the west portions of Texas or in Arizona where the climate is said to have been extremely severe during the past two months.

TO CIRCULATE NEW ISSUE OF GREENBACKS

Bills of One and Two Dollars Denomination Will Displace Similar Notes of Larger Amounts.

Washington, Jan. 10.—A new issue of the one and two dollar greenbacks of Civil War days, discontinued more than thirty years ago, will be put into circulation, probably about February 1, displacing similar United States notes of larger denomination to provide relief from the unprecedented demand for small paper money. The treasury department announcement tonight that the issue had been decided on because silver certificates, the ordinary bills of one and two dollar denomination, could not be issued under the law in sufficient quantities to meet the demand. A limit of $346,651,016 to the amount of outstanding federal notes was fixed by law in 1878 after the greenback had become an issue in politics, and had resulted in the birth of a new national party, backed largely by the farmers of the west and south. No greenbacks have been issued since 1885 and the amount of outstanding $1 and $2 notes of that variety is slightly over $3,000,000. There is however $102,433,300 outstanding in United States notes of $10 denomination and higher and a portion of these will be retired and cancelled, dollar for dollar, to meet the new issue of smaller denominations.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone whes applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

This game will be the last one of the semester and a general admission of ten cents will be charged everybody. Pawnee has one of the strongest teams in this part of the state and the game should be a fast one.

Coach Hufford has been giving his men some strenuous workouts and they should be in condition to do the entire route. That was the trouble with the men in the Waverly game; they played themselves out in the first half while Waverly with her additional work was still playing as fast as ever. The officials have not been decided upon.

SEEK INFORMATION ABOUT RELATIVE

Ohio Man Wants to Know About Family of Granville L. Wisdom.

Charles W. Boston, circuit clerk, has received a letter from J. C. McCracken, who lives on route 4, Nevada, Ohio, in which the writer is seeking some information about G. L. Wisdom, said to have been a resident of this county years ago. In the letter the writer says, "My wife's father at one time resided in your county or near there, and his name was Granville Logan Wisdom. He served in the Civil War and after the war went to Texas where he was married. I would like to learn about some of my wife's people if any are living in that locality. He had a brother, William Wisdom, who lived at San Antonio. In fact, both brothers lived in that city for some time. My wife has a half brother she has never seen. Her maiden name was Bessie May Wisdom. If you can secure any information about our family the favor will be greatly appreciated."

PREPARE FOR GARBAGE DISPOSAL IN GALESBURG

In Galesburg the city officials are putting into effect a municipal garbage system which in some details is like that which the commissioners of Jacksonville plan for this city. For the work soon to begin four wagons will at first be used in the collection system and in the spring it is expected to purchase additional wagons. With the present equipment it will be possible to collect garbage once a week from every residence in Galesburg, and it is recognized that later on more frequent collections must be made. The ground has been leveled outside the city limits where the garbage will be buried according to a plan already outlined. The householders will be required to furnish air tight metal containers of not more than 15 gallons capacity.

COST OF KEEPING TEAMS IS VERY HEAVY

Springfield Owners Now Ask $5.50 Per Day for Team

The cost of maintaining teams has grown to such extent that the team owners in Springfield have filed a demand with the city commission there for an increase in the rate paid to $5.50 a day. The scale now in force provides for the payment of $4.50 a day. The increase asked is not out of reason when the higher cost of feed, harness and wagons is considered. There has been no particular change in the price of horses within the last year but there has been a decided increase in the cost of wagons, harness and feed. The higher price for wood and iron work needed in repairing wagons must also be taken into consideration.

A Jacksonville team owner who has worked out a cost sheet in detail finds that the owner of teams cannot make a profit at $4.50 a day. It might be possible to do so if the teams were employed regularly every working day in the year, but this is not the rule and the feed cost for the entire year must be taken into account in figuring out the earning power of a team.

CONDITIONS GOOD AT DAKOTA DEAF SCHOOL

It gets very cold in North Dakota and already this winter the thermometer there has registered as low as 37 below zero, but it is the kind of cold which does not seem to result in great discomfort or other bad effects.

PIONEER CASS COUNTY RESIDENT FOUND DEAD

Reuben Lancaster Found Dead in Bed at Home in Virginia by His Wife—Funeral to be Held Friday

Virginia, Ill., Jan. 10.—(Special)—Reuben Lancaster, a pioneer resident of Cass county, was found dead in bed at his home in this city this morning by his wife who went to call him at 5:30 o'clock when he failed to arise as was his custom.

Mr. Lancaster was apparently in his usual good health Tuesday night and after eating a hearty supper with his family spent the evening with friends at the Hotel Mann. Later he returned home and retired. Mrs. Lancaster was awakened by the alarm clock and on not hearing her husband get up, went to his room. When she turned on the light she noticed the peculiar palor of his face and on not being able to awaken him called the members of the family and summoned Dr. C. M. Hubbard who said that death had occurred four or five hours earlier. Coroner Lyons was called and held an inquest, at which the jurors returned a verdict that death was due to heart failure.

Born in Kentucky
Reuben Lancaster was born in Kentucky 74 years ago and when quite young enlisted in the army. Soon after his enlistment he was appointed captain of Co. B, 6th Kentucky Cavalry and at the close of the war came to Illinois and settled on a farm near Ashland. In 1889 he was married to Miss Sue Heaton, who with one son Earl of Indianapolis, Ind., and a daughter, Miss Iva Lancaster at home, survive.

Mr. Lancaster had always been active in politics and was a firm supporter of the Republican party. In 1874 he was appointed deputy sheriff of Cass county and moved to Virginia. He served one term as post master at Virginia and in 1898 was appointed quartermaster of the soldiers and Sailors Home at Quincy, continuing in that capacity for fourteen years. About four years ago he retired from active business life, but always maintained an interest in the welfare of the city. He was a member of the G. A. R., and of the Church of Christ.

Funeral Friday
Funeral services will be held at the late residence Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. C. E. French, pastor of the Church of Christ. Interment will be made in Walnut Ridge Cemetery.

PLAN FOR PAY UP WEEK

An effort is being made to get an observance in Illinois of national pay up week. Pay up week was observed in this city a year or so since with quite satisfactory results.

Members of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting Friday evening, Jan. 12, for the purpose of discussing participation in this campaign. The pay up week to be nationally observed will be from Feb. 19 to 24.

MENARD COUNTY HAS HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

New Organization Formed Wednesday, with 60 Booster Members in Addition to Road Commissioners and Clerks.

The Menard County Good Roads association was organized at Petersburg Wednesday at a meeting which gave promise of doing substantial work for highway development in that community. Membership in the new association includes Mr. Buckley, the highway engineer, all the commissioners and all of the clerks of the eight road districts, as well as sixty other public spirited residents of Petersburg and vicinity. At this meeting a movement was definitely initiated to oil and mark a trail across the county from north to south, probably on the line of the Mason City, Jacksonville branch of the projected auto trail to Peoria.

The three members of the county board were present and gave assurance of their willingness to co-operate by going half way with the several road districts, appropriating one half of the funds necessary to prepare and maintain this oiled stretch. In the city of Petersburg a fund of three thousand dollars is being raised to promote this work.

L. R. Craig of this city was present at the meeting and extended members an invitation to attend the February meeting of the Morgan County Commissioners and Clerks' association, to be held in the court house Feb. 3. A delegation of about twelve members is expected, according to Mr. Craig.

Charles Cosen of Tallula was elected president and Frank Finney of Petersburg was selected secretary and treasurer.

Secretary Jay Rodgers of the Chamber of Commerce, George W. Vasconcellos and L. R. Craig will go Friday to Havana to attend the road meeting to be held that afternoon by the Heart of Illinois Auto Trails' association.

FIND NO EVIDENCE TO SHAKE BELIEF

Philadelphia Police Still of Opinion That Lewis Killed Art Model

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—After running down scores of clues and questioning virtually everyone who they believed could throw any light on the murder of Maizie Colbert the model, in her apartments here, on Dec. 29, the police declared tonight that nothing had been revealed to shake their belief that the crime was committed by Bernard W. Lewis, of Pittsburgh. Lewis committed suicide in Atlantic City several days after Miss Colbert's body was discovered.

A number of persons who claimed to have information which would lead to a complete solution of the mystery have written the detective bureau offering assistance. Many of the writers have been summoned before the police but so far nothing has been advanced to break the chain of circumstantial evidence they say convinces them of Lewis' guilt.

A proposal to re-enact the murder so far as details are known was made to the authorities today by John Colbert, a brother of the model, who had been authorized to conduct a private investigation into the mystery. The plan was laid before District Attorney Kottan and Superintendent of Police Robinson, neither of whom signified whether it would be carried out.

The young man gave himself up.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon young Howes was found dead in his cell at the county jail having strangled himself with a bath towel.

QUAKER OATS PLANT AT CEDAR RAPIDS CLOSES

Striking Employees Form Organization Under Direction of Officers of American Federation of Labor

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 10.—Following the walkout of over seven hundred employees of the Quaker Oats plant, the largest cereal mill in the world today, and the throwing out of employment of several hundred more by the shutting down of the mills, the striking employees formed an organization tonight under the direction of the local officers of the American Federation of Labor to enforce their demands.

The strikers are asking for a raise of one to one and one half cents an hour, representing an increase in daily wages of $1.35 and $2.10 for a ten day hour, to $2.10 to $2.50.

Girls who claim they now receive four to six cents per hundred for wrapping packages are asking six to eight cents.

The strike started in the packing department where between 500 and 700 persons are employed.

Other employees followed the action of the strikers and walked out. The mills employ 1,100.

As a result of the meeting held tonight at which a conference was held with State Secretary Canfield of the federation of labor, a committee was named to act with Canfield and present a committee from the Commercial Club in presenting the demands for the strikers to the Quaker Oats management in an endeavor to arrive at a peaceful settlement. The strikers tonight were counseled urgently by labor leaders to conduct their strike peacefully.

Alexander Wiggs who was with him at the time, jumped when the horses were in flight and escaped with minor injury.

The two men were on their way home and approached the Franklin school building just as the afternoon recess was in progress. The horses took fright at some of the children and it was not until breaking harness allowed the tongue of the wagon to drag that the team broke from all control.

ST. LOUIS MUNICIPAL BRIDGE READY

Will Be Opened to Traffic Jan. 20th—Four Bridges Cross River at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—The St. Louis Municipal Bridge, which will be opened to vehicle and pedestrian traffic January 20, was completed January 5 but will be closed to traffic until the twentieth to give the time to install electric lights.

An elaborate program for the opening of the bridge is planned by a citizen's committee appointed last November.

The original free bridge bond issue $3,500,000 was voted in June, 1906, and the second bond issue of $2,750,000 to complete the Illinois approaches was voted in November, 1914.

Four bridges now span the Mississippi at St. Louis—The Eads, devoted to steam railroad, electric, vehicle and pedestrian traffic; The Merchants bridge used exclusively by steam railroads, the McKinley bridge used by vehicle and pedestrians traffic; and the Municipal which is intended primarily to give steam railroads an entrance into St. Louis free of bridge toll on coal shipments, but which also will accommodate vehicle, pedestrian and electric traffic. You Need This For Lamé Back

Foley Kidney Pills Simply Drives The Cause of it Out of Your System

Lame back, stiff, swollen, aching joints, and rheumatic pains are the result of weak, sluggish, inactive kidneys. In this condition, they cannot keep the blood that feeds your body free of the impurities that poison you and cause these painful symptoms.

Foley Kidney Pills are so strongly advised and recommended for these troubles because of their direct and beneficial effect on the kidneys, bladder and urinary system; and acting through these important organs, on the health of the entire body. Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak and sluggish kidney action, ease a painful and irritable bladder, stop rising at night, remove the cause of backache, lame back, stiff joints and rheumatism, due to imperfect kidney and bladder action.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wood of Morrell, Maine, Box 18, R.F.D. 2, were both rescued from the effect of weak, sluggish, imperfect kidney and bladder action by the use of Foley Kidney Pills.

Pills. Mrs. Wood writes: "Foley Kidney Pills helped me so much. I found relief as soon as I began taking them. My husband is also much benefited, and feels so much better since taking Foley Kidney Pills. He was so lame he could not stoop, had to get down on his knees to pick up anything, so lame he was in his back and hips."

I remain always your well wisher,
Mrs. Frank P. Wood.

Foley Kidney Pills are sold everywhere in 50c and $1.00 sizes. The $1.00 size is the more economical buy, as it contains 2½ times as many as the 50c size.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Things Not So Old.

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society.)

People some times say these chronicles are too old for them. Perhaps "kids" of sixty or seventy years will be interested in happenings of 1869, altho usually the intent of this series has not been to start "stories" of later date than 1865—the end of the War.

As stated in the history of the Journal, about a year ago, Chapin and Glover took over the paper from Col. Geo. P. Smith in April 1869. L. B. Glover being the editor, Ensley Moore began with them as "Local," now called City Editor.

April 14, 1869, was the date of the first issue under the new management.

On the first page was a letter from Judge Wm. Brown, dated at Auburn, Alabama, beginning: "We still linger at Auburn. It is our 'Alabama' for 'here we rest.' Alabama in the soft language of the Indians signifies 'here we rest.'"

Judge Brown was the father of Wm. Finley Brown, and uncle of the late Wm. Brown of West State street.

The new editor's Introduction came on the second page,—with the Valedictory of the former editor following.

Mayor Mathers.

The City Council report was given with the "Inaugural Address" of Mayor John Mathers. He was the first mayor in 1867, followed by Mr. Wm. P. Barr in 1868, and Mathers was again elected in 1869. It would seem as if the "East end" and the "West end" were at it.

Dr. Bezael Gillett.

An important feature of the issue was a report of the funeral of Dr. B. Gillett, who had lived so long at what is now called the Fitzsimmons place, on Grove street. This funeral was on the Sunday previous, mention being delayed by the torn up condition owing to the change of owners.

The Rev. I. L. Townsend conducted the services in Trinity church; "Hon. Cyrus Epler, Col. Jas. Dunlap, Alderman E. T. Miller, Dr. Cassell, I. L. Morrison, H. B. McClure and H. Stryker, Sr., Esqs., acted as pall bearers."

The Rector said in part: "A father in the church in Illinois, the very first senior warden (for this was the very first parish) now sleeps before us." Dr. Gillett was the father of Mrs. Geo. M. McConnell, formerly of Jacksonville.

"A Home Literary Work." A limited number of copies of "Gamaliel and other Poems," by "Lucern Elliott," a Jacksonville authoress are now on sale at Ward's news depot. It was next door to the Post-office, on South Main street, just north of the first alley from the Square, east side of Main.

"To Cattle Dealers." Mr. Joseph Nelligar, Licensed Cattle Broker, headquarters at Lacey & Stookey's Livery Stable North Main street, Jacksonville, "announces himself."

Father Lippincott.

The paper of April 15 announces the death of Rev. Thomas Lippincott, father of the State Auditor, at the residence of his son, Thomas W. Lippincott, Esq., at Anna, Ill., on Monday last. He was the father of Mr. J. P. Lippincott, now President of our Board of Education.

Bicycles.

The modern bicycle rage was just then a leading public matter, and references are made to the new means of locomotion.

New Homes.

Charles E. Ross was building a new house at the northeast corner of LaFayette Ave. and Sandusky street. "Mr. District Attorney Brown" had laid the foundation for a large house at the northwest corner of those streets. That meant "Lawyer Billy."

The Odeon Club.

Met April 16th in what is now G. A. R. hall, and had a debate, Misses Lyde Akers and Mary C. Palmer, Prof. H. C. Hammond, Rev. F. W. Holland (of Boston), Prof. H. W. Milligan and Col. Smith taking part. The "Local" made so facetious a report that the editor called him down for it. But Barton Hardy thought it was fine. So great minds differed.

Dr. Harsha.

"The Rev. W. W. Harsha of Chicago, has accepted a call to the O. S. Second Presbyterian church of this city." April 17th.

Nicholson Pavement.

Wooden blocks, was advocated on West State and Church streets by the "Local."

Blind Orchestra.

A matinee at "The Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind" was given, with Prof. A. E. Wimmerstet as pianist, and Miss Alice Rhoades leading the orchestra.

Tornado.

Tuesday's paper, April 20, told of a terrible tornado, which did much damage at Ashland, the previous Sunday.

"Aunt Biddie."

A later paper had a long article from "Aunt Biddie," Mrs. J. K. Jones. She wrote at times for several years. This article was entitled "Literary Union Skirmish."

Notables.

Hon. Thomas W. McNeely, member of Congress, of Petersburg, had been visiting our city. Hon. James M. Epler, our state senator, and Smith M. Palmer, our representative, had returned from their duties in the state capital.

Fire at the Blind.

It was April 20, 1869, that the main building of the School for the Blind was destroyed by fire. This gave Jacksonville all sorts of thrills. The pupils were taken in by Mrs. Eliza Ayers at "Berean College," and by citizens of this city. There was much excitement over the fire, and in the fall the new building was begun.

Mr. Harsha's Opening Sermon. The Journal of Monday, April 20th had a report of Dr. W. W. Harsha's sermon, opening his pastorate here. The services were in Strawn's Hall, where the "Old School" people then met.

Dr. Harsha remained in his charge till about 1883 or 84. He went from here to Nebraska, at Tecumseh and at the college at Omaha.

The "Tit-tat-Toe" Houses.

The houses, since known by the above title, on Grove street, were built in 1869, by Mr. Felton. There was a good deal of building that year.

"Mendelssohn Quintette Club."

The above named organization, one of the best of its class the country has ever had, honored Jacksonville with a delightful concert. All the principal public events at that time were in Strawn's Hall, now called Armory Hall.

Ole Bull was to be here May 10th.

The Old Court House.

A burning question was what was to be done with the old court house, which then stood in the southwest part of the Park. A year later it was torn down.

Christian Church.

"The towers of the Christian church, on East State street, are being finished up. The southeast tower of the new court house is also nearly finished externally."

Railroads.

Sleeping cars on the Toledo, Wabash and Western railway ran as far east as LaFayette, Ind.

The Chicago & Alton "Mail" left here at 10:20 p. m. and arrived in Chicago at 8:45 a. m. No "Hummer" then.

The Peoria, Pekin & Jacksonville had a train leaving Peoria at 7:15 a. m., getting to Virginia at 12:30 p. m. (noon). Returning it left Virginia at 1:15 p. m., and got to Peoria at 7 p. m.

A Mason and Patriot.

Mr. Julius Elmore, the oldest Mason in Illinois, died at Prentice on Tuesday morning, (April 27th), after having attained the age of ninety years. Mr. Elmore was a member of Cass Lodge No. 23, of Beardstown and had been member of the Masonic order for sixty nine years. * * Mr. Supt. Morse kindly ran a special train for the accommodation of the delegation from this place and Petersburg. * * The old gentleman was a native of Tennessee, (altho a resident of Prentice for many years) from which state he went to New Orleans in 1812, being a member of Capt. Huddleston's company. He was engaged in the battle of New Orleans, and served thru the Creek war."

Dr. Grissom.

Most people, probably, have forgotten Dr. J. D. Grissom, who lived on East North street, about Brown street. He seems to have lived in Carlinville, and to have gone thence to Kentucky, where he died. His death being noticed in the same paper as that in which Mr. Elmore was spoken of.

The Lawson House.

"A few days since, seeing stairs being laid into the second story of the old Lawson house, southeast corner of the Square, we asked a boy what was to be done up there."

The reply was: "They are going to have a likeness gallery upstairs."

"Charlie" Ten Eyck.

Charles H. Ten Eyck, long in charge of the U. S. Express office had resigned, and L. G. Parker had been appointed in his place.

Packing House.

Messrs. Frank Dayton, Horace Billings and Jonathan Neely had arranged for the building of a pork packing establishment near the east coal shaft.

The New Masonic Temple.

May 2, 1869, "Last night the new Masonic Temple was dedicated with imposing ceremonies." This was on the third floor of Gallaher's Block.

Excursion.

"A party, consisting of members of the graduating class and other scholars of the Female Academy left for St. Louis yesterday. They go to Naples, thence down the Illinois and back on the good steamer Nellie Rogers."

Personal.

I. L. Morrison and A. E. Ayers, Esqs., expected to go out on the Pacific railroad next month.

Capt. J. H. Kellogg was City Clerk.

Promoted.

E. H. Knollenberg, known as "our accommodating Ed" under Ten Eyck, at the U. S. Express office, had been appointed to a "full run" on the C. A. & St. L. railroad.

The Last Rail.

"The last rail on the Union Pacific railroad was laid Monday, at noon if the programme was carried out."

Tuesday, May 11, 1869. New Confectionery and Ice Cream Parlor.

"We learn that Bartlett (Peter) and Pendleton have opened a new confectionary and ice cream parlor in Gallaher's Block."

How many old fellows can remember taking their "best girls" there?

A New "Local."

About the middle of May, the first Local resigned, and nominated Edward Dun as his successor. Mr. Dun was appointed and served about a year and a half.

A SUCCESSFUL HOG FEEDER

Louis P. Fisher of the vicinity of Franklin was among the city callers yesterday. He says he has a lot of corn and some hogs too and tho the grain is so high he thinks he can make more money feeding. He likes the standard Poland China breed best and says he has had very good success feeding just corn and clear water and keeping charcoal or coal, ashes and coppers where the animals can get at it all the time. He keeps his hogs in a small lot and cares for them intelligently. He believes in vaccination and has had his hogs treated that way.

Appeal to Reason

Ask any of the great army of Postum users what influenced them to try this beverage, and the reply nine times out of ten will be that they were convinced the caffeine and tannin in tea and coffee were harmful to health.

Some imagine it is hard to give up coffee and tea. But it isn't, with the delightful aroma and flavor of Postum at hand. This flavor somewhat resembles that of a high-grade Java coffee, but there is no coffee in Postum — only the nourishing goodness of wheat, skilfully processed with a small per cent of wholesome molasses.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal, which has to be boiled; Instant Postum—soluble—made in the cup, instantly. Some prefer one, some the other. Made right, they are alike delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same. There's better health, comfort and efficiency in

YOUNGSTERS WON HONOR IN 1916 ATHLETICS

Some Great Records Made by Boys and Girls—Veterans are in Danger.

"Youth must be served" may be an old phrase, but it certainly ran true to form in the athletic world in 1916. Never before did so many youngsters display such marked prowess in the various lines of sports. And should the youthful athletes continue to improve, the coming season is likely to witness the downfall of more than one veteran.

Of the many juvenile athletes who delivered in 1916, twelve-year-old Bernardin Currier, known as the "rookie wonder," is perhaps the youngest. At the Missouri Valley championship tournament held in Kansas City last fall, Master Currier defeated some of the best players in the country, among them his grandfather, a well known expert who taught him the game. Any kid who can beat his grandfather at the old gentleman's own game is certainly there or thereabouts.

Golf also produced a boy wonder in the person of Bobby Jones, the kid marvel from Georgia. After cleaning up the golfers of his home state Bobby entered the national tournament last year and succeeded in getting into the third round of play before he was upset by Bob Gardner, the 1915 champion. The spectacle of a fourteen-year-old boy wading thru the old-timers in a national tournament created a full-grown sensation in golfing circles. After watching him perform, "Chick" Evans, the champion of golf champions, uttered the biggest word Bobby when he declared that the young Georgian had everything.

Many baseball players have started their climb to fame and fortune at an early age, but Henry Febris, of Ripley, Ohio, is believed to be the first seventeen-year-old boy to be signed up by a major league club. Febris, who is to be given a trial by the Cincinnati Nationals next spring, pitched amateur ball in his home town last season and the big league scouts who gave him the up and down have declared him to be a hurling wizard. In his last game of the season he struck out 19 batters and his side he would have fanned a couple of dozen more had his catcher been able to hold his delivery.

To another seventeen-year-old belongs the record for a high run at pool, the run having been made recently by Louis Kreuter of New York. Kreuter pocketed 131 balls, sweeping nine entire frames and part of the tenth. Next month the boy wonder is to engage in a contest for the national amateur pocket billiard championship.

Another young man entitled to a place among the youngsters who showed class in sports last year is Lyman Brusie, an eighteen-year-old driver of harness racers. Young Brusie, who is a son of Harry Brusie, the veteran driver, holds the distinction of outdriving Walter Cox, the Grand Circuit wiz, in a race at Woonsocket R. I. last October. In the 2:23 pace Emma C. was piloted by Brusie while Cox handled Harland K. The

"CASCARETS" FOR A COLD, BAD BREATH OR SICK HEADACHE

Best for Liver and Bowels, for Biliousness, Sour Stomach and Constipation

Get a 10 cent box now. Purged tongue, bad colds, indigestion, sallow skin and miserable headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Try This! Your Hair Gets Wavy, Glossy and Abundant at Once.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knott's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv.

boy's clever work against the veteran brought the crowd to its feet. It was a driving "hurry up" in the stretch and in an eyelash finish Brusie's mare got the verdict.

The girls likewise earned their share of laurels in athletic competition during the year just ended, and in some instances they even excelled the achievements of their youthful brothers.

Foremost among the girl athletes winning fame in 1916 was Miss Alva Sterling of Atlanta, who now holds the women's national golf championship. That's considerable title for an eighteen-year-old girl, but Miss Sterling won it without a flaw and what's more, according to expert opinion, she's likely to remain champion for some time to come. Trapshooting is ably represented among the little folks by Miss Lucille Meusel of Green Bay, Wis. Altogether fourteen years old this young lady holds an average of 99 out of every 100 targets in competition.

In Thelma Darby, a thirteen-year-old mermaid, Indianapolis boasts of having the greatest girl swimmer in the world. In winning the 330-yard national title Miss Darby swam the course in 16 minutes 8 3/5 seconds, or one and one-half minutes below the former American record.

The year 1916 was a banner year for the young athletes and sportsmen and may 1917 prove to be a still better one.

HISTORIC FIGURE PASSES AWAY

Joseph Burdette Did Conspicuous Work in Education and Religion

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Spink, who is editor of the Citizen, a college paper in Berea, Kentucky, has sent them a paper from which some extracts are taken:

In the death Monday, January 1st, of Joseph Burdette, Berea lost one of the oldest and most valued citizens who perhaps more than any living man had part in transforming a wilderness of Black-Jack Oak and underbrush into an active thriving town, but even more important he helped foster the educational venture in the wilderness, begun by John G. Till in poverty, faith and prayer. Till it grew to be in the course of long years one of the educational factors of the country with notable recognition as such from statesmen and scholars.

Joseph Burdette came to Berea with his father's family from Rockcastle County at the close of the Civil War, at a time when affiliation with Berea meant a sturdy declaration of principle. His father and mother, people of piety and influence, soon made themselves felt in the community. Both were members of the historical Union church and later the father became one of the trustees of the young school.

Joseph Burdette, during his student days at Berea, became a charter member and one of the first presidents of the Phi Delta Literary Society, with which the family has since been closely identified.

Later he was most happily married in 1871 to Mary Jane Harrison also of pioneer stock. The young people lived in a distinctively Berea home, which for nearly a half century dispensed most generous hospitality. His wife passed from this life April 15, 1913.

For seventeen years Mr. Burdette was a trustee of Berea College and closely identified with the construction of various important buildings. He was superintendent of construction for several years and as such had charge of the erection of the Carnegie Library and of the present Chapel Building.

The Burdette home was notable for the Christian spirit of the household, for staunch adherence to principle. The influence exerted by the father and the mother was felt for good in the entire community. Such men as Joseph Burdette are a valuable asset to the town and to the state. Their removal is a distinct loss. He served the Union church 18 years.

FIRST TITLE CUE MATCH OF YEAR

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—The first title cue match of the new year begins in this city tonight, when Frank Taberski of Schenectady and James Muro of Kansas City begin a contest for the pocket billiard championship, now held by the Schenectady expert. The match will be for 450 points and is to be played in three evenings sessions of 150 points each, or in six afternoon and evening sessions of 75 points each. The winner will be called upon to play Louis Kreuter, some time next month. Other challenges for the trophy, in order of priority are Benjamin Allen of Kansas City, Lawrence Stontenberg of Buffalo, and Joseph Concannon of Jersey City.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS "NOT GUILTY"

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—A denial that they are responsible for the present high prices of food products and a discussion of plans to combat the nation-wide movement to eliminate the middlemen, phonically to feature the twenty-fifth annual convention of the National League of Commission Merchants, which assembled in this city today for a three-day session. The convention is attended by prominent representatives of the commission trade from nearly all the large cities of the country.

A TIE ON JOINT BALLOT

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Forty-five days of lively proceedings are forecasted for the West Virginia legislature, which convened today for its regular biennial session. The lower branch is of Democratic complexion, while the State senate is Republican. On joint ballot the legislature will be a tie. In addition to disposing of a large amount of routine business it is expected the lawmakers will make an attempt at final adjudication of the fifty-year-old Virginia debt controversy.

WAR NURSE BECOMES A BRIDE

New York, Jan. 10.—Miss Helen Carson, war nurse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. John of St. John's, Newfoundland, and Blundell Sands, England and Charles Purch Schiff, son of Charles Schiff, former president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, were married today in the Cathedral of the Incarnation, at Garden City. The bride recently returned from England, where she was serving as nurse in Lady Roberts's hospital at Ascot.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

WEDNESDAY MORNING. The fire department responded to two alarms Wednesday morning. The first was at the Star lunch room about 5 o'clock. The fire there was caused by turning the gas too high under a steam table. The table was practically destroyed. The blaze was extinguished with the chemical. The damage was estimated by Assistant fire chief Butcher at about $20.

At 8 o'clock the department was called to the residence of W. H. Mosely, 1004 Grove street. Fire had started in the roof by sparks from a chimney. A small hole was burned in the roof but the blaze was extinguished by neighbors before the department arrived. The damage is estimated at about $15. The property is owned by Mrs. E. P. Cleary.

REMAINS TAKEN TO ALTON

The remains of Mrs. Mary E. Topping were taken to Alton Wednesday morning where interment was made in the family lot in that city.

W. C. TEANEY ACQUITTED OF LIQUOR SELLING

Jury Brings in Verdict Clearing Franklin Man—Sent Against Road District On Trial

The trial of William C. Teaney of Franklin, charged with selling liquor in anti-saloon territory, was concluded in the county court Wednesday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. The case occupied all of the morning and the afternoon session until nearly 3 o'clock. When the argument had been concluded by John M. Butler for Mr. Teaney and by Carl E. Robinson in behalf of the state, the court instructed the jury and they retired to their room. After some consideration the verdict of acquittal was returned. In a former trial the jury disagreed.

At the conclusion of the Teaney trial the case of William Fetter against the commissioners of road district No. 7 was commenced. The complainant is represented by E. C. Willis of Springfield and Judge E. P. Brockhouse of this city, and the commissioners, who are Messrs. McDonald, Cully and Smith, by Worthington, Reeve & Green. Walter E. Hall is serving as court reporter in this case as Henry English is busy in the circuit court. The case results from a claim of the complainant against the commissioners for some concrete culvert work. It is alleged that because of an encroachment on the part of a representative of the complainant that he did not receive pay for certain work done.

MISS LAZELLE

Many a blatantly trumpeted prima donna, wearing the halo of membership in some great opera company, has shown in this city gifts inferior to those with which Miss Rena M. Lazelle, with a name unknown here, surprised and pleased a large audience at yesterday afternoon's Symphony Orchestra "pop" concert.

More than most women singers who can be called to mind, she exemplified the versatility required of the diva in the golden age of Italian singing, who could not specialize, as is the case today, but had to be coloratura, dramatic and lyric soprano all in one. That is to say, Miss Lazelle possesses the high range and expert technique exacted of the first, much of the power of voice demanded of the second, and the talent for lyric expression required of the third. Moreover, she displayed an acquirement far from universal among singers, that of sound musicianship.

In range her voice is one of the most remarkable organs in existence, its compass running up from the E below the treble to the G above high C, a distance of three octaves and a minor third. Her highest note is a full tone above Melba's topmost note in her prime, the lowest note is beyond the reach of many contraltos.

Her chief offering was the aria, "Gianqui d'Inferno," from Mozart's "Magic Flute," which is a favorite tour de force among coloratura singers. This tone with her was completely without strain, clear and soft as a flute. Her execution of the aria's more technical difficulties was done also with the flute's facility. It was in every way an extraordinary performance of florid singing.

In a group of five songs she revealed artistic power as a singer of lieder.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The soloist was Rena M. Lazelle, coloratura soprano, a young singer possessed of a fine musical voice and more than the average technique. Her first number was an aria from "The Magic Flute" by Mozart and this was followed by a group of songs by Greig, sung with the piano. Miss Lazelle was most cordially received and deserved the reception.—St. Louis Republic.

Extract from Letter

Dear Miss Lazelle: I was very sorry that I could not find a moment before you left to tell you how much I enjoyed your work yesterday. Your voice was very beautiful and altoh I was completely across the hall from you, I heard every softest note with all its color. The Aria went splendidly and the Greig songs were delicious.

The enclosed notice is so fine that I send it thinking you might not see it. I am also sending one of my pictures, with my best wishes for your continued success.

Sincerely Yours,
Amy (Mrs. H. H. A.) M. Beach.

SEEK COURT RULING ON FRANK RANTZ WILL

C. F. Wemple As Trustee Claims the Right To Handle Property Until Son of Deceased Is 30 Years Old—Heir Wants Land Now.

Before Judge Burton in the circuit court the case of Charles F. Wemple as trustee of the last will and testament of Frank Rantz vs. Francis R. Rantz, et al., is on trial. This is a bill brought to construe the will of the late Frank Rantz. Mr. Wemple, the complainant, is represented by William T. Wilson and the defendants, Francis R. Rantz, et al., by Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty. The proceeding was brought as a result of the claim made by Francis Rantz that having attained his majority, that he is now entitled to the control of property left him by the will of his father. It is the claim of the complainant that as trustee under the will that he is to manage the farm lands and pay the rentals to Francis Rantz until the latter has attained the age of thirty years.

The Rantz estate includes 548 acres of good land, two pieces of city property and about $10,000 worth of personal property.

In the bill filed it is shown that Mr. Rantz, who was for many years a citizen of Waverly, died there May 27, 1909, and that his will was duly probated July 5, 1909. Following the filing of the will letters testamentary were issued to C. F. Wemple as executor under the will and the executor accepted certain trusts imposed upon him by the terms of the will. In September, 1909, Mrs. Ada Rantz, widow of the deceased, filed in the county court renunciation of the provisions made for her in the will and subsequently her dower and homestead in the estate were set off and assigned.

At the time of the assignment of homestead and dower, Francis Rantz the minor son, was made a defendant and Walter B. Rogers, who had been appointed guardian of Francis Rantz, filed his answer wherein he asked for a construction of the will, and a decree was subsequently entered in the circuit court, finding that the guardian was not entitled to collect rents for his ward but that said collections were to be made by the trustee until young Rantz was 21 years old.

From this opinion the guardian took an appeal to the appellate court and the opinion of the lower court was affirmed. Since that time the complainant in the present case has handled both the real and personal estate except the portion set off to Mrs. Rantz. When Francis Rantz became twenty-one years of age the trustee turned over to him one-half the personal property belonging to the estate. Francis Rantz at present is a student at the University of Illinois and since he attained his majority claims that he is entitled to full possession of the real estate to be managed and cared for by him without the intervention of a trustee. Francis Rantz has given notice to the various tenants that all rents accruing on their leases should hereafter be paid to him.

Provisions In General Terms.
The complainant further says that the provisions of the will with reference to the collection of rents and disposition thereof are expressed in general terms in the will and that the powers of the trustee as outlined are in some respects not clear. It is furthermore set forth that because of the claim made by Francis Rantz that without a court opinion as to the powers of the trustee the revenues from the lands will be considerably reduced as with the conflicting claims of the trustee and the said Francis Rantz the real estate cannot be rented for the full cash value. The complainant is therefore asking for a decision from the court and a construction of the will which will show whether his authority as trustee continues until the said Francis Rantz arrives at the age of thirty years.

The portion of the will which has resulted in the present situation is in part as follows:

Language of the Will.
"As soon as convenient after my son, Frank R. Rantz, shall have reached his twenty-first birthday, I direct that my executor place in his hands as nearly one-half of my personal property then available as shall be convenient, taking proper receipts therefor. And I further direct that when my said son reached the age of twenty-five years that my executor shall give into my son's possession any remaining surplus on hand belonging to my personal estate and not needed by my executor in carrying out the further provisions and conditions of this will, taking my son's receipts therefor, but my said son, Frank R. Rantz, shall not be authorized to sell, or in any manner encumber any of my real estate until after he shall have arrived at the age of thirty (30) years, and in case he shall not live to reach the age of thirty years, or in the event of his death at any time before reaching the age of thirty years leaving no surviving child or children of his own blood relation born in lawful wedlock, then it is my will that all my real estate, including my residence property in Waverly and the one hundred and sixty acres of land, the use and net income of which is given to my said wife during her natural life, together with any personal property remaining in the hands of my executor not disposed of, shall be, by my executor, converted into money. . . ."

The Defendant's Claim.
It is the claim of the defendant, Mr. Rantz, as set forth by his attorneys, that the intent of the will is clear and that his father provided that he should not encumber the lands in any way before he had reached the age of thirty years. He further admits that the will provides for the management and disposition of the property if he should die before reaching the age of thirty years without leaving any surviving heirs. He maintains that he should have the management of the property, having reached the age of twenty-one, with only the reservations already cited. In answer to the bill the complainant states that he is a student at the University of Illinois taking a special course in agriculture for the very purpose of fitting himself for the management and control of the lands. It is his claim that the trustee rents the lands for cash and does not give the property needed personal attention.
